SHORT BIO

Exorcizphobia is a thrash metal band from Trutnov, Czech Republic, formed in 2005. Combining the speed and precision of classic thrash with hardcore intensity and a modern approach, the band has evolved into one of the leading names in the contemporary European thrash scene.

After receiving the Czech Grammy Award (Anděl 2023) for their acclaimed album Spiritual Exodus, the band returns with their most personal and intense work to date — Neurosis Unbound (2026, Doomentia Records).

Known for their explosive live performances, Exorcizphobia have toured across Europe, sharing stages with legends such as Voivod, Exhorder, Napalm Death, Exodus, D.R.I. and Artillery, and have performed at major festivals including Brutal Assault, Obscene Extreme, Mystic Festival, Tolminator, and Czech Death Fest.

EXTENDED BIO

The band was formed in 2005 in Trutnov, Czech Republic, by Tomas Skorepa, Jan Erben and Jakub Vaclav. The group began as a young trio of passionate metalheads covering their favorite bands like Black Sabbath, Judas Priest or Slayer. With the addition of guitarist Josef Valkoun, Exorcizphobia started writing their own material and performing across local venues.

Their debut EP Disease Inside (2009) marked the start of their recording career, followed by the full-length Something Is Wrong (2012). Over the years, the band became a respected force within the Czech metal scene, known for their technical precision and relentless energy.

A memorable highlight came in 2010 at Obscene Extreme Festival, when Skorepa stepped in to play an entire set with D.R.I. after guitarist Spike Cassidy fell ill — a story that quickly spread through the metal community.

After several line-up changes and acclaimed releases like About Us Without Us (2018) and Digitotality (2020), Exorcizphobia signed with Doomentia Records for the release of Spiritual Exodus (2023). The album received wide recognition, including a Czech Grammy Award (Anděl) for Best Rock Album and high positions in Břitva Awards rankings.

Between 2023 and 2025, the band toured extensively across Europe, performing alongside Voivod, Exhorder, and many others. They appeared at major festivals such as Brutal Assault, Mystic Festival, Tolminator, and Czech Death Fest, while celebrating their 20th anniversary in 2025 with a live video recording from Monsters of Metal & HC.

In March 2026, Exorcizphobia are releasing their fifth studio album Neurosis Unbound, a record that merges their trademark thrash sound with darker, personal and psychological themes — marking the beginning of another strong chapter in their journey.
